MR. A. L. CRABLE

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and President of the State Board of Education.

College is the place where people make systematic preparation to live better and make a better living. Your name and face somewhere in this book creates a timeless record that there was at least one period in your life when it was consecrated to these high purposes. May your years henceforth be such that at any time you can read this little message of mine with pride and joy that you have continued to work toward these goals.

Ernest E. Brown

DR. ERNEST E. BROWN. President

AUGUSTUS G. VINSON, B.S., M.S.
MINNIE M. SHOCKLEY, A.M.

The theme of this book, Progress in Northwestern Oklahoma, is truly exemplified by the dean of the faculty, Mr. A. G. Vinson and the Dean of Women, Miss Minnie Shockley. They have served Northwestern since the early history of this school, and through their efforts it has become one of the outstanding normal schools of the state, enrolling almost a thousand students yearly.

FACULTY

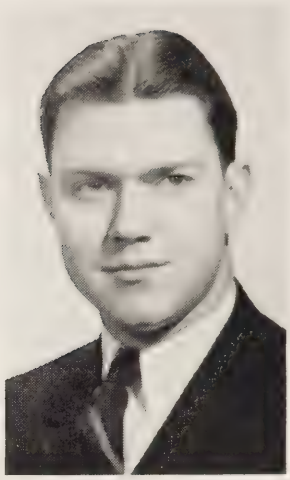
The Student Council

Dr. Frank K. Wadley, Faculty Adviser



Wayne Quinlan, Council President.

Perry Irons, Vice President, Representative-at-large.

Dwight Hildinger, Senior Representative.

Earl Sargent, Senior Representative.

Ira Painton, Senior Representative.

Perry Brandenburg, Discipline Chairman, Junior Representative.

Erl Lene Cline, Junior Representative.

Bill Yoeman, Sophomore Representative.

Wilda Nickelson, Secretary, Sophomore Representative.

Herman Ging, Treasurer, Sophomore Representative.

Mary Evelyn Hoch, Freshman Representative.

Arthur Hale, Freshman Representative.

Harry Sullivan, Freshman Representative.

The Student Council was organized at Northwestern by a group of forward looking students in the spring of 1936, and elected Ralph Clifford as the first president.

Since that time the Council has progressed greatly in prestige and usefulness to the students, both in serving them and reflecting their views to the college administration.

Among the leading enterprises of the council this year were the sponsoring of weekly student dances; the First Annual Freshman Day, which was designed for the purpose of acquainting the freshmen with one another and acquainting them with the college; an All-Student Mixer; the Spring Carnival; and culminating with an All School Picnic in May. In addition to these enterprises the Council has cooperated in such functions as the arrangement of chapel programs, the Homecoming Day Parade, and the annual Founders' Day Program.

Dr. F. K. Wadley has been the faculty adviser of the Council since its inception and his interest and advice has been a large part in the Council's steady progess.

WE WORK TO LEARN

"Read not to contradict and confute; not to believe and take for granted; not to find talk and discourse; but to weigh and consider.

Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested."

Seniors

Seniors? Yes. August? No.

Describe them? Impossible!

What about them? Well, there isn't anything "about" them, except they are a grand bunch of kids and they're going to "quituate" this spring. Their only lament is that "they were born too soon!"

Seniors

Perry Irons, green-suited Cassanova from Dacoma, has been underwriting Senior class announcements for two years now. Last year he was their president when they constituted the Junior class, '38, and this year he is again "the peepul's choice." Perry says, as he begins the last mile, "Golly, we're going to hate to leave this place."

Sophomores of 1939

Well, here we are again! The green bud has blossomed into the leaf just as we, the green freshmen of 1938, have blossomed into the sophisticated sophomores of 1939.

"Time does wonders" as the old saying goes, and once again the truth of this statement has been proved.

We have long been old hands at finding our way through the maze of corridors in the two buildings; we have each adopted our special kind of collegiate attitude toward professors and classes in general; we have learned the best ways to waste time enjoyably, and we have all had the fun of being the "hazer" of green Freshmen and not the "hazed."

In a few years, we expect to hear the names of Arthur Hale in connection with medicine, and that of Kenneth Smith in the field of dramatics. There are many other potential leaders who as yet have not had time to show their great capabilities, such as Harry Sullivan, future political leader, and Gordon Lewis, who intends to be an up-to-date, progressive farmer (Incidentally, he won the Freshman Oratorical Contest). Florine Bourne showed her talent by winning an oratorical contest sponsored by the Anti-Saloon League over junior and senior contestants.

ONE in a million is Bonnie Phillips the national champion of 4-H Club leadership work and the 1938 winner of the Moses Trophy which is the most coveted award offered to 4-H Club members in the United States.

The fame which Bonnie has acquired came to her because she took advantage of every opportunity offered and made good through her own industrious effort.

This glory comes to one of Northwestern's active freshmen who is a vital part of many college activities.

Little Theatre

A fellowship of sixty students who like to make-up and make believe, constitutes the present Little Theatre of Northwestern. Each member passed the tryouts and maintains his membership by acting or staging.

For over ten years Little Theatre players have brought the lives of famous characters of drama to the stage of Herced Hall auditorium. Playing through the years they have found an outlet for talented emotion which benefits themselves and their audiences.

This year Little Theatre produced more plays of finer quality than ever before. Under the direction of Maude Drake-Bingham, the director who replaces Mrs. W. L. Halstead of Miami, Florida, the players have produced a three-act comedy, a five-act religious drama and twenty-five one-act plays.

The one-act plays were presented to groups varying from students assemblies to the Ladies Aid. In every instance they received enthusiastic applause.

In its ten years of history Little Theatre awards a curtain call to '38 and '39.

The year 1907 was bulging with significant historical events. Perhaps the most familiar event connected with this year was Oklahoma's statehood. Somewhat less widely known, but of almost equal importance was the creation of the N. S. N. Debating Club.

N. S. N. Debating Club

The club has always had as its primary aim the betterment of the school and the students. Those who established this club realized what an asset a well-developed speaking ability is; consequently, one of the main purposes of the club is to create a greater interest in public speaking and allied subjects.

The finest example of this activity is the Freshman Oratorical Contest which the club sponsors every year. This year Gordon Lewis, Wilbur Henline, and Paul Smith received the medals the club awards for bravery under fire.

It has become a tradition that most of the student leaders belong to N. S. N. Debating Club.

The Mac Dowell Music Club

The Mac Dowell Music Club was organized in 1930 by Mrs. Lois Binkley. It is composed of the piano students of Mr. Frank Whiteside.

The purposes of the club, which is named after the great American composer; are to promote the program of good music in the school and the community; to acquaint its membership with the less known phases of music; and to gain an appreciation of the music of the great masters through an illustrated study of their lives and works.

Meetings of the club are held regularly every two weeks. The life of one of the great composers are reviewd by a member of the club. After discussions are completed an opportunity is then given to others of the group to show their skill in playing the piano forte.

Other activities include two parties, two initiation ceremonies, and a spring recital.

The theme chosen for the year was "Developing the Homemaking Girl," and many interesting and worthwhile programs built around this theme were presented. These programs consisted of demonstrations, illustrated lectures, panel discussions, musical numbers, and readings.

Club activities included a tea for freshman girls, a Christmas dinner, and a May Day breakfast in honor of the senior members of the organization.

Nine members of the club attended the Third annual State meeting of the Future Homemakers of Oklahoma at Oklahoma City, on Saturday, March 14, 1939.

The Young Women's Christian Association at Northwestern is a part of a world-wide movement which finds "Y" organizations in fifty-seven countries of the world. The Y. W. C. A. is one of the organizations on the campus that is open to every girl who desires to join.

Y. W. C. A.

At the beginning of the year a "tea" was given in the Y. W. room for all girls enrolled in school, and wives of the faculty members. The girls went caroling Christmas, and took an active part in the Easter services sponsored by the churches of Alva. On Senior Day the Y. W. room was available to visiting guests for relaxation.

During the last semester of the year, there has been a group of girls forming a Commission which meets each week and discusses subjects related to "The Fine Art of Worship." Other Commission groups are being formed and 1939-1940 promises to be one of the most interesting and worthwhile years in the history of the organization.

Noon Day Prayer Meeting

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge." A number of students here at Northwestern join with Solomon in saying these words, and wishing to attain a well rounded education they attend the Noon Day Prayer Meeting held in Jesse Dunn Room III.

This prayer meeting was organized by the Baptist Student Union in the spring of 1937. Four students attended the first meeting and at the end of the year the average had grown to above twelve. The average for this year is twenty-seven.

Harry Clifford has been the director of the Noon Day Prayer Meeting the past year. The meeting begins at five minutes until one and lasts until 1:10 o'clock.

The daily program consists of a song service, a short devotional and one or more prayers. These devotionals are presented by the students themselves, each one having a chance to participate.

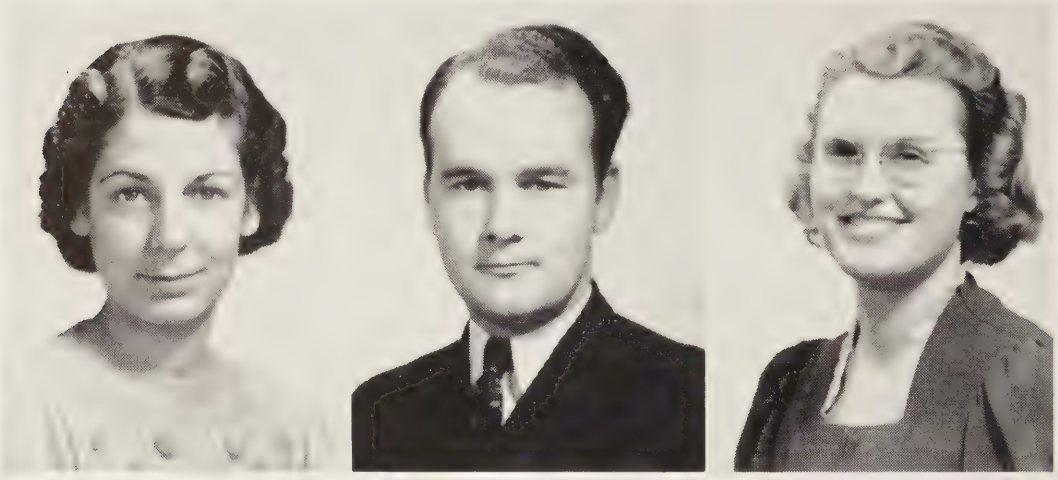
League of Young Democrats



League of Young Democrats was organized in 1936, under the leadership of its first president, Paul Cummings.

During the following two years the organization achieved statewide recognition under the capable leadership of Wayne Quinlan.

In 1939, after serving out the unexpired term of Wayne Quinlan, Ira Painton was elected president. Helen Preston was elected vice-president and Marguerite Henricks, secretary and treasurer.

The democratic organization has held to the true spirit of democracy in that no individual is more important than the institution of which he is a part. The most humble student may always find this organization ready and willing to claim him as member.

The N. S. T. C. Young Democratic Club has always been well represented at the various conventions since its creation.

International Relations

War or peace! Trade or isolation! Neighbors or enemies! These are still, after many generations, prominent questions which every nation must face. The clouds gather; they break away; they gather again—and the world goes on.

Students at Northwestern were not untouched by this situation, and out of the chaos came a desire for knowledge and an understanding of international affairs. So, in 1936 the International Relations club was organized with Dr. F. K. Wadley as faculty advisor.

The Northwestern branch of the national organization is under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, which supplies books for the International Relations club library and sends prominent speakers to the regional conferences. It meets bi-monthly for informal programs in which students, visiting speakers, and members of the club discuss world problems.

The Publications Board

The Publications Board was created by the Student Council for the purpose of supervising and directing the publication of the 1939 Ranger Annual. This it has striven to do to the best of its ability, both in its own work and in the selection of the staff. It is separate and distinct from the Student Council, and is in no way governed by it.

It is the desire of the Board that this book should become increasingly valuable as the years go by, and that it should be now and later a true representation of the spirit and activities of Northwestern State Teachers College.

The Ranger Staff

The Ranger Staff is proud to present to the students of Northwestern State Teachers College the annual student book of the year, "The 1939 Ranger."

In building this annual we have been confronted with many problems, and if mistakes have been made, they were mistakes of the mind, and not of the heart for we have conscientiously worked to produce the best year book possible.

We have appreciated the splendid cooperation of the student body and the faculty. We are sure that this same fine spirit of cooperation that you have extended us will be given to the Ranger staffs of future years.

It is our hope that this book will meet your approval as representative of campus activities during the year, and that you will find herein a permanent picture of Old Northwestern as you choose to remember it.

(Wordsworth)

CULTIVATION

On March 9, as a celebration of its tenth anniversary, the Little Theater presented the five act drama, "The Servant in the House."

As is customary, the Little Theatre presents one large production each semester. After the long run of comedies which had been presented each year. Mrs. Maude Drake-Bingham selected this stirring drama to close the major productions of this year.

"The Servant in the House"

The play itself deals with the regeneration of the human heart. A brief survey of the text discloses three brothers, separated in youth, rejoined through the efforts of the one who had drifted to India to become a great spiritual leader. His appearance as a servant in the home of his brother, a Vicar in the Church of England, causes no curiosity or wonderment until the third brother discovers the cause of the unrest and pollution of the church. It is then known that the servant had the gift of divination and extreme foresight. The reunion of the brothers and the regeneration of the hearts of the entire household blend into the stirring climax of the play.

The play was unusual, in that, although there were five acts, there were but seven characters.

Newell Huckaby, as the Bishop of Lancashire; Irving Smith, as the Vicar; Dorothy Landon, as the Vicar's wife; Bette Jeane Swingle, as Mary; Jeff Bower, as Robert; Ross Kinnaman, as Rogers; and Jack O'Neill as the Servant, comprised the list of characters.

Lines to be learned, interpretation to be derived, coaching, driving, pleading, all help to make "The Servant in the House," something long to be remembered by the cast. The unique and successful presentation, coupled with the appreciation of the select audience, established this drama in the minds of the entire locality.

"Nothing But the Truth"

"Nothing But the Truth" played to a packed house November 3, 1938.

Twelve characters: Mary Belle Webb—Gwen Ralston, Fairie Bell Clark—Mrs. Ralston, Kenneth Smith—Mr. E. M. Ralston, Tommy Rhodes—Dick Donnely, Everett Marie Fulmer—Mable Jackson, Alyce Pyle—Sable Jackson, Faith Ann Shirey—Fi Fi, Gene Smith—Clarence Van Dusen, Virginia Newlin—Miss Ethel Clark, Ross Strader—Robert Bennett, Irving Smith—Bishp Doran, and—The Old Grandfather Clock.

"The Servant in the House"

The comedy was the first production of Little Theater this year and made a reverberating "hit" with the campus and Alva citizens. Three-acts of fun and applause marked another success for Little Theatre and a triumphant return for Mrs. Maude Drake-Bingham, director and sponsor to Northwestern's faculty.

The Debate Squad

First Row—George, Hill, Hamilton, Henricks, Huguley, Capper, Bransgrove.

The Northwestern State Teachers College debate squad, under the direction of Professor O. W. Rush, carried on an active debate program this year. The practice of sending teams to many outstanding debate tournaments in this section of the country was supplemented by the entrance of squad members in several extemporaneous speech contests as well as presenting discussions on vital topics before various civic clubs, organizations, and other groups in this section.

The National Debate question for this year was "Resolved, that the United States should cease to spend public funds for the purpose of stimulating business."

Tournaments attended by Northwestern were held at Winfield, Kansas; Tahlequah; Conway, Arkansas; Durant and Oklahoma City. In addition to this, dual debates were held with several outstanding college teams in the state.

At the Winfield Tournament, Ira Painton and Wayne Quinlan received a superior ranking. In the other tournaments attended the Northwestern teams consistently made a strong showing.

The outstanding local event was a debate held between a team representing the University of Oklahoma and one composed of J. D. Foliart and Wayne Quinlan, representing Northwestern. The debate was held in Herod Hall and was attended by several hundred people who pronounced it an outstanding success.

English Club

For a number of years this college has felt the need of an organized club for the English majors of this institution, and this dream was made a reality this year under the direction of Professor E. H. Peterson, head of the department of English.

In the fall of 1938, Professor Peterson called a meeting of English majors. A committee of six members, two from each of the three upper classes was selected to design the plans of this club.

The purpose of this club is to give to each English major that which cannot be obtained in the classroom.

The enthusiasm and the growth in membership have been indicated by the success of this organization. We organized it in a fashion so that when these original members have passed from the memories of men, this organization will still stand as a landmark for the benefits it administers.

The year 1938 saw the creation of many new organizations on the campus of Northwestern. Chi Beta Nu Music Fraternity had its beginning in November of that year, and in the few short months of its existence has won an outstanding position on the campus.

The membership of the fraternity is composed of music majors and students active in music organizations on the campus.

The purpose of the group is to further the interests of music on the campus and in the community. Among the aims of the group are high scholarship and loyalty to the college.

The fraternity has within its membership a fraternity chorus, German band, many soloists, and other ensemble groups.

Drum and Bugle Corps

The Drum and Bugle Corps is a musical organization of co-eds on the campus of Northwestern. It was organized by P. C. Conn in 1936. The Corps has annually participated in Alva's Homecoming Parade and the Santa Clause Parade at Wichita. It has also visited several neighboring towns.

The group is directed by Professor McQueen—an enthusiast who wants the Drum and Bugle Corps to be recognized as one of the best. The Corps welcomes to membership girls who are musically inclined and to those who are interested.

The organization has been of value to the individual members in that it sponsors drill practices and class instruction on the Drum and the Bugle.

With Mr. McQueen leading, and a "peppy" group of girls backing him—Here's to the bigger and better Drum and Bugle Corps of next year.

The choir is in its eleventh season, having been organized in 1928 by Mr. E. B. L. Hardy, the present conductor, and has a membership of sixty selected voices. It has been an active organization since that time and has become known as one of the finest organizations of its kind in the southwest. It is known for its purity of tone, exactness of pitch, and unity of interpretation.

The repitoire consists of many selections from the early church music, Russian liturgical music, modern American, English secular and sacred music. This year we include a number written by Mr. E. B. L. Hardy, our conductor, and also a number, "Serenade," written by a member of this year's choir, Mr. John McDaniel.

Each year the choir takes an extended tour. The tour of 1937 extended over 1400 miles in Oklahoma, Texas, and New Mexico the focal point being a tour through the Carlsbad Caverns. The tour of 1938 sent its choirsters to western Oklahoma, Kansas, and Colorado. The chief point of interest was a visit to the Royal Gorge and the Canon City Skyline Drive. The 1939 group toured through southern Oklahoma and as far south as Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas. The main interest, this year, is centered in a thirty minute broadcast period over station WFAA.

The ladies trio and male quartet, groups chosen from the choir membership, appear on the program each year.

Orchestra

The Northwestern Little Symphony Orchestra was organized in 1936 under the directorship of William F. Deusinger. The start was made with a modest group. The organization has shown a steady growth and has at present a good instrumentation, including flutes, oboe, bassoon, clarinets, cornets, trombones, French horns, violins, violas, cellos, basses, tympani and piano. The orchestra looks forward confidently to continued growth, an enlarged instrumentation, and music library, and more frequent performances at home and abroad.

Quartet

The Ranger Band Male Quartet is one of several talented instrumental Music Department groups, composed of members of the Northwestern Ranger Band. This quartet accepts many invitations to sing before school, college and civic club audiences. They recently sang their way into the hearts of many listeners on a commercial radio program given over station WKY in Oklahoma City. The members are (left to right) Mr. Dale Hassinger, Mr. Otho McGuffee, Mr. Allen Benson, Mr. Ben Harrover.

Ensemble

The Northwestern String Ensemble is composed of a group of musicians who skillfully blend their efforts to produce music, which has been highly praised by the many audiences for whom they have played. This group works under the leadership of Mr. Otho McGuffee. Other members are (left to right) Sylvia Wesner, Otho McGuffee, Floyd McClain, Ben Harrover, Edward Leighton and Dale Hassinger.

The Northwestern Ranger Band, which recently completed its Third Annual Spring Concert Tour, is famous in the Southwest for its performances in concert and brilliant, colorful marching ability. The Ranger Concert Band is composed of a select group of trained musicians who play varied programs of fine music. The colorful brilliance and precision with which this band plays is seldom found outside of a professional organization. Each year the Ranger Band makes a tour through surrounding states in an endeavor to bring the appreciation of good music to a higher level and to give valuable experience to its members. This organization is one of the best equipped in Oklahoma, owning over 125 instruments, a large library of music and complete uniforms for a large marching and concert band. It is estimated that the Ranger Band has made over 200 appearances in concerts, parades, athletic contests, and civic celebrations in the past three years, travelling approximately 15,000 miles.

The Ranger Band

The Three Trumpeteers

"The Three Trumpeteers," a trio of trumpets is another one of several popular ensemble groups developed by the Instrumental Music Department. This group has made many highly successful appearances before Public Schools, college and civic audiences. The members of the group are (left to right) Mr. Arthur Hale, Mr. Rex Benedict, Mr. Chas. Marsh. Mr. Kenneth Farrell is the accompanist.

We Achieve Results from Due Efforts

"There wrought the busy harvesters;
and many a creaking wain

Bore slowly to the long barn-floor its load of husk and grain;

Till broad and red, as when he rose,
the sure sank down, at last.

And like a merry guest's farewell, the day in brightness passed."

Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education, was founded in 1911 at the University of Illinois. Its purpose is to encourage higher scholastic standards and to recognize contributions to the field of education. At present there are one hundred and twenty active chapters throughout the nation. Delta Eta Chapter was installed at Northwestern in 1936. The active chapter now consists of twenty-five students and forty alumni and faculty.

During 1938-39 seven Juniors and twelve Seniors were elected to membership. The Juniors were: Lawrence Bransgrove, Perry Brandenburg, Erl Lene Cline, Marguerite Henricks, Aurice Huguley, Helen Preston, Wayne Quinlan. Seniors elected were: Ina Beck, Floyd Carpenter, Elizabeth Daugherty, Edrin Emanuel, Rex Enterline, Gertrude Garrett, Robert Lembke, Myron Maddox, Earl Sargent, Roy Sargent, Gerna Lee Stambaugh and Leta Estelle Williams. Eligibility for membership is based on the student's promise of becoming an effective teacher, his high scholastic rating, and his contribution to the educational and activity program of the college.

The programs given at the regular monthly meetings deal with educational, social and literary problems. On December 10 twenty-two members of the chapter attended the Regional Conference at Edmond. Delta Eta served as host chapter at the annual breakfast held at the University Club in Tulsa. The annual Convocation Banquet was held at the Bell Hotel, April 29.

Pi Kappa Delta

Pi Kappa Delta, the largest honorary forensic fraternity in the United States, is composed of college students and alumni who have done outstanding work in intercollegiate debate, oratory, or extemporaneous speaking. Organized in 1913, the fraternity now contains over 10,000 members.

The Delta Chapter, which was organized at Northwestern State Teachers College in 1922, has been most active in forensic activities.

At the Oklahoma Provincial Pi Kappa Delta Tournament which was held biennially, alternating with the National Tournament, J. D. Foliart and Wayne Quinlan placed second in men's debate. In addition both participated in the men's extemporaneous speech contest with Quinlan winning first and Foliart third. The tournament was held at Oklahoma City this year.

O. W. Rush, Northwestern debate coach and sponsor of the Delta Chapter, has served as Governor of the Oklahoma Province during the past two years.

Homecoming

It is great to have friends when one is young, but indeed it is still more so when you are getting old. When we are young, friends are, like everything else, a matter of course. In the old days we know what it means to have them.

The annual homecoming makes possible the reuniting of old friends, and they can once again relive their college days at Old Northwestern.

The Ranger basketball team of '39 might well be compared with a small, young tree . . . and, as a sapling, we marveled at their rapid development, their flexibility, their spirit, and their beauty.

Next year they will be older, a little more developed, more positive of their position . . . and they'll bloom to uphold the majesty which, by virtue of heritage, is their lot.

Basketball

Although the Ranger basketball team was made up of small, and, for the most part, new men, they ended the Oklahoma Collegiate Conference in third place. Only one of the conference season's three defeats could have been termed a decisive victory for the opponent.

The team attended the All-College tournament at Oklahoma City, sponsored a highschool turnament of their own, and accepted an invitation to the National A.A.U. Tournament at Denver, Colorado, where they won the distinction of being the last Oklahoma college team to be eliminated from the tournament.

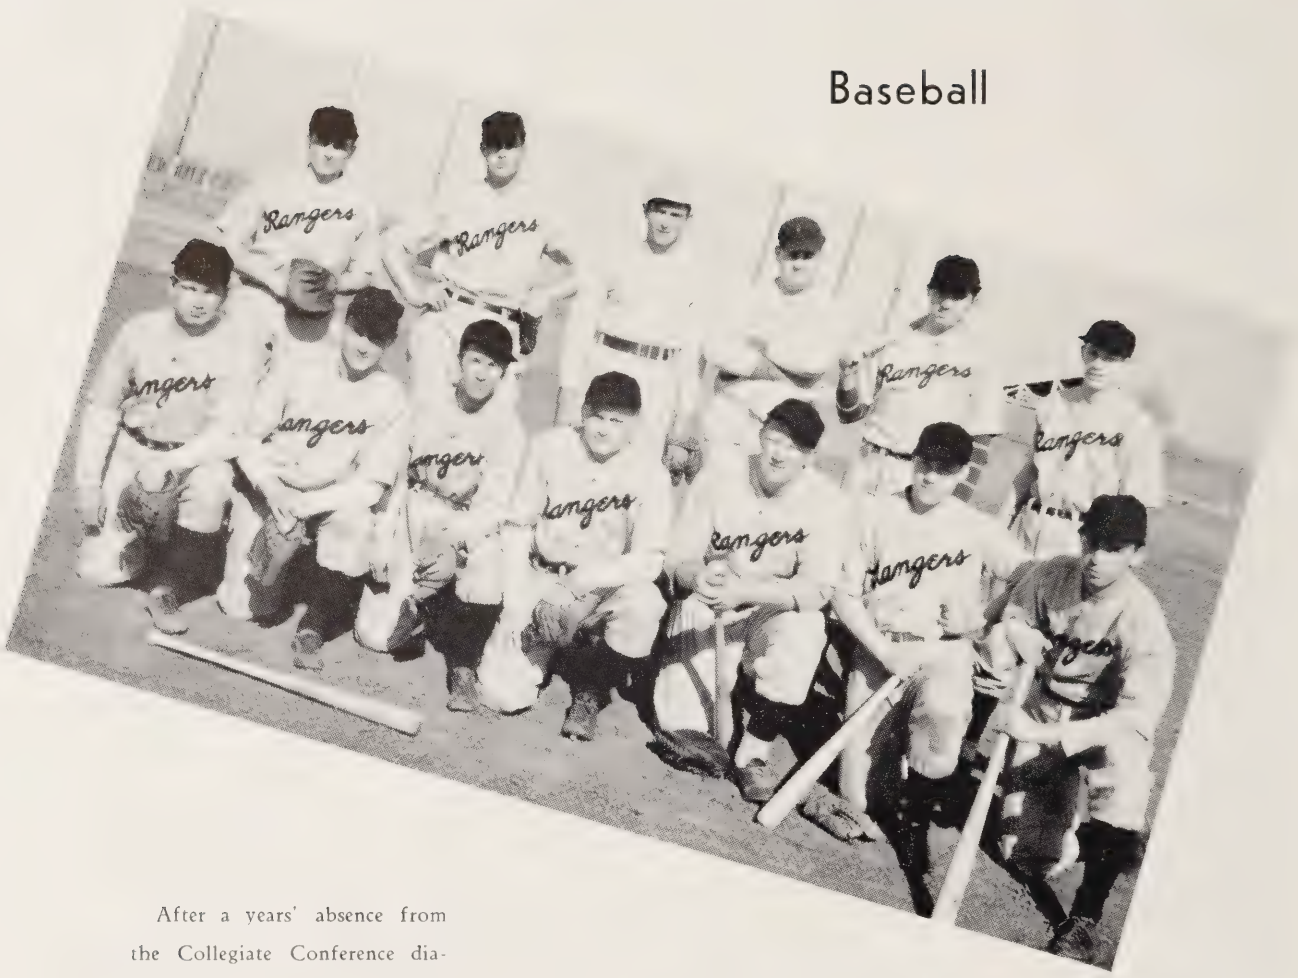
Baseball



After a years' absence from the Collegiate Conference diamonds, the Ranger baseball team will take the field this spring depending upon spirit to replace experience.

Perry Irons and Fred Rogers will probably be depended upon for the most of the mound duties, and McCurley and McDaniels will likely split time behind the bat.

Tennis

Coach Jelsma, Smith, Meixner, Young, and Gardner.

Bad weather has hampered outdoor tennis practice, but under the direction of E. R. Jelsma, the tennis team expects to bring home some of the conference honors for Northwestern.

Meixner will probably play as No. 1 man with Young at No. 2, Smith at No. 3 and Gardner No. 4.

Zippers

Forty-nine Zippers finished a nine-month marathon of ear-splitting support to Ranger sportsmen, as they cele brated their fifth anniversary.

It is a well known fact that the Zipper organization is the most talked of group on the campus, partly because it is one of the largest, and then partly because it just naturally gets into lots of trouble.

Working with the Wranglers, brother pep club, they have proved their loyalty and school spirit by standing ready to help in all college activities whenever needed.

Two trips were made by Zippers this year and all home football and basketball games were attended. One trip was to Shawnee, O. B. U., and one to Enid, Phillips.

The chief identification factors? A red and black jacket with "Zippers" written diagonally across the back, a red shirt, and a black skirt, a beautiful smile, and enough "pep" to go around.

In September 1934, twelve Northwestern students gathered together in the still of the night to deliberate. Their purpose was to fulfill a long felt need of Northwestern, a need for a pep club which would foster sport enthusiasm and school loyalty. After due consultation the Wrangler club was born.

Time passed and the acorn grew into an oak. Thirty-five members are now garbed in the traditional red jackets, red tie, black shirt, and dark trousers every Wednesday and at every game. "Woe to him who forgets," say the Wrangler code and paddles.

Thirty-five members are always present in the bleachers cheering the teams onward.

The annual formal dance-party constitutes a vital place in every Wrangler's heart, for then all of the "old gang" return to throw caution to the winds and have a hilarious time.

It isn't always pleasant to be on the receiving end of the "paddle line" but a Wrangler is always glad he's a Wrangler.

The "N" Club, composed of Northwestern lettermen, is completing its second successful year since being reorganized in the fall of 1937 for the raising of scholastic standards among Ranger athletes.

Upholding good-fellowship and exerting unified force, the club has proved a necessary cog in Northwestern's Athletic Association.

Athletes lettering in any of the Ranger sports are eligible for admittance to the club after completing a strict set of initiation duties and subject to the approval of the organization.

Women's Athletic Association is a participation club. One earns activity points to be initiated, as well as to receive any of the awards: pin, sweater, or plaque.

One democratic tradition which this organization upholds is: "A game for every girl and every girl in a game." To do this, an intramural program has been established in which each has a chance to find satisfying competition. During any season it has not been: "Were you on the victorious color team?"—but rather —"Did you have a good time?"

Co-ed night, folk parties, award dinners, play day for the surrounding high schools, and recreational hours of activity intersperse the extensive sports program. Much interest has been shown in women's athletics. May each year see some definite step toward success.

Pan-Hellenic Council

Composed of delegates from the four Associations of Education sororities, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Delta Sigma Epsilon, Pi Kappa Sigma, and Sigma Sigma Sigma, the Pan-Hellenic Council unifies the activities of women's Greek-letter organizations. Each sorority is represented by the president, another initiated member, and the sorority sponsors. Meetings are held once a month. The local organization is under the direct control of the Association of Education Sororities Council. The duties of the local council are to create friendship and good will among the sororities, to sponsor formal rush week, and to act as a clearing house for all sorority problems. The council always sponsors a formal dance for members of sororities represented in Pan-Hellenic. This year the dance was held March 10, in Vinson Hall. It was attended by more than 200 people. Pan-Hellenic offices are rotated among the sororities.

"For She's a Delta Sig
And a girl you ought to know"

And you probably do know her! She's that friendly, peppy girl that really goes places on the campus. She takes an active part in the various activities and organizations of the school.

"Not too Fast and Not Too Slow"

Since the founding of Delta Sigma Epsilon in September, 1914, at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, it has been the aim of the organization to develop well-rounded personalities in her members.

"She's a Scholar"

One of the purposes of Delta Sigma Epsilon is that of maintaining high intellectual attainment.

"And a Lady"

And you'll say "a very lovely lady" when you see her—oh, at the "Rose Formal," for example. The Rose Formal climaxes the year's social events, and is that time when everyone puts on his best "bib and tucker" and plans for a "gala" everything.

"And a Girl that Men Adore"

In fact, we all adore her. The Deltas are mighty proud of the number of "queens" that were elected from their group this year.

"And Every Time You See Her
You love her more and more"

You see her quite often—remember the Delta chapel program? Or what about the girl who sold you your Student Directory? She was a Delta Sig and she worked very hard to make the best directory ever for you.

To fill my days with satisfying activity,

To find dominant beauty in art, literature, nature, and friendships,

Alpha Sigma Alpha

To know the peace and serenity of a Divine faith,

To love life and joyously live each day to its ultimate good—

This is my creed in Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Webster defines a sorority as a sisterhood, and there is a certain something about sorority life, which brings the members closer together. Beautiful friendships are started which last long after college days.

Gamma Gamma endeavors to achieve a sisterhood that will make the chapter a vital force in the sorority, a powerful factor in the life of the college, and the community, and to produce women of poise, personality, power and purpose.

Gamma Gamma Chapter was established at Northwestern in 1916, being the third on the campus at that time.

Pi Kappa Sigma

Pi Kappa Sigma holds as its ideal good scholarship, good citizenship, and upward growth in the moral, mental and social status of young womanhood. That this ideal has borne fruit is evidenced by the positions of responsibility held in later life by its alumnae.

These ideals of endeavor and service have a large part in moulding the character of its membership, and instilling a feeling of loyalty and devotion which is an aid to high living throughout life.

"The Laurel," the official magazine of Pi Kappa Sigma, is published three times yearly, and through it the various chapters are united in mutual interest and improvement.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

On April 20, 1898, eight students at the Virginia State Normal School located at Farmville, Virginia, and anxious to further a spirit of sisterhood and to establish a standard of high ideals among themselves, banded together to form the Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

The Sorority at the Convention of 1911 voted to limit the Chapter roll to Teachers Colleges, the first to be strictly a national education sorority.

Since that convention the sorority has limited itself strictly to the education field and has grown from a small southern society to a national education sorority with a membership of some five thousand in thirty-three active chapters, and as many alumnae groups. Members are living in every state in the Union and in many foreign countries.

XI Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma was organized and installed at Northwestern State Teachers College, Alva, Oklahoma, December, 1915. Its many chapters bear witness that the sorority is a success in its field.

Delta Tau Gamma

Delta Tau Gamma, a men's social fraternity, was founded May 10, 1938, at Northwestern State Teachers' College and has for its purpose the development of personality and the building of character for its members.

The organization, composed of sixteen male students representing nearly every phase of student life and activity, is active in campus affairs, and is designed to furnish the advantages of a fraternity to men who would ordinarily be unable to afford it.

It is a non-political, non-secretive organization and its membership is restricted to those men who show an active interest in their work and who meet the approval of every member.

Mu Alpha Sigma Tau

In the spring of 1938 on a campus that was barren of men's social organizations, a group of young college men decided to band together to form a social fraternity which they called the Mu Alpha Sigma Tau Fraternity.

Membership in the fraternity requires that one must have at least a B average, an unquestioned moral character, and must have previously exhibited qualities of leadership.

Service to the school being one of its ideals, the fraternity members served as guides during Senior day, and took active participation in the Homecoming activities. Believing that the physical should be stressed as well as the mental in college, the fraternity entered a basketball team in the intramural play and finished near the top in the final standings.

FOR BETTER SHOE REPAIRING

"There's not money in heaven," declares an evangelist. This probably explains why so many people go to hell trying to get some.

They say that money talks; about all it says to most of us is "good-bye."

The automobile is a great moral force. It has completely stopped horse-stealing.

The sin is not in the sinning but in being found out.

Society is a hospital of incurables.

Success depends on back-bone not wishbone.

He is a fool who cannot be angry; but he is a wise man who will not.
